FIGURES ON COAL

Statistics Showing Immense Tonnage Produced in Illinois—Figured in Our Leads.

The mining industry of Illinois is acknowledged to be something enormous, but the statistics as a rule convey very little idea to the average mind. When you speak of the tonnage of coal mined and shipped in the state during one year you use figures which are beyond the grasp of the ordinary mind. In order to get any fair idea of what they mean it is necessary to set up some standard of comparison. Col. J. D. Roper, of the state board of labor statistics, who has compiled enough figures on the mining industry of the state to drive the ordinary untrained deliverer after information to the verge of insanity, has made a series of very interesting comparisons based upon the figures in the forthcoming coal report of the board which are very valuable as well as interesting to those who wish to form an intelligent idea of the magnitude of the coal industry of Illinois. When one reads that the total tonnage of coal shipped from Illinois mines during the past fiscal year was 25,680,542, the only impression is that this is an immense amount. Even a million tons is too large a quantity to be fairly comprehended without a basis of comparison, and yet over 3,000,000 tons was mined during the year in Sangamon county alone.

Colonel Roper has estimated that the 25,680,542 tons would make 513,611 car loads of fifty tons each or 12,840,271 wagon loads of two tons each. This is still a pretty big proposition for the mind to grasp. To carry out the calculation farther it would take 25,681 railroad trains of twenty cars each or 17,120 trains of thirty cars each to deliver this coal to the buyers or consumers. Allowing six days as the average time of delivery, counting the round trip, certainly a liberal allowance, it would require 102,720 days to deliver this amount of coal and this would mean fifty-six trains a day hauling 84,000 tons, counting 300 days to the year. This would be an average haul of 1,500 tons to each train. If the whole product were hauled in one train of thirty cars it would take 335 years, 8 months and 6 days to deliver the coal. Such a train, allowing six days for the round trip, would make fifty-one trips in a year. The entire length of a train which would deliver all of this coal at one trip, allowing thirty feet to each car, would be 2,918 miles.

Reduced to wagon loads and allowing thirty feet to each wagon if you loaded all the coal at once and started out to deliver it you would have a wagon train 72,956 miles long, or, in other words, that would reach nearly three times around the world.

Colonel Roper has instituted another comparison showing the immensity of the mining industry of Illinois. This is found in the number of miners who originally handle the products of our mines. For the last year 46,005 men were employed. This number may be considered almost wholly as an adult population, and compared with the population of the cities of the state, exceeds all of them except Chicago and Peoria. Considering, however, that four-fifths of the men employed at the mines have families, this gives 27,002 heads of families. Adding four more members for each family, which is a fair estimate, the total population dependent upon the mining industry for support is shown to be approximately 110,412. This number of persons more than equals the combined populations of Quincy, Springfield and Rockford, three of the principal cities of the state, and is more than one-half of the entire population of six of the largest cities of Illinois—Peoria, Quincy, Springfield, Rockford, East St. Louis and Joliet. Compare this mining population with that of the following cities as shown by the census and you gain some idea of the magnitude of this industry in Illinois: Peoria, 56,100; Quincy, 36,254; Springfield, 34,159; Rockford, 31,051; East St. Louis, 29,655; Joliet, 29,353; Aurora, 24,157; Bloomington, 23,296; Decatur, 20,754; Elgin, 22,433.

There are other facts yet which show the comparison between the mining industry and other lines of business. The report of the railroad and warehouse commission for 1902 shows that the total tonnage of freight handled during the year was 125,387,878. Of this tonnage agricultural products amounted to 13,023,205 tons, divided as follows:

Wheat, corn, oats, etc. 9,853,426
Fruits and vegetables 1,645,210
Hay 826,698
Cotton 373,410
Tobacco 94,373
Other agricultural products 596,888
This means that the coal product of Illinois loaded on cars at the mines for shipment by thirty-five railroads is 49.3 per cent more than the agricultural products hauled by 116 railroads.

Shipments of milling products for the same period in tons were as follows:

Flour	2,164,167
Feed, etc.	1,125,881
Or a total of	3,289,978 tons

and this means that the coal hauled from mines by thirty-five railroads was 37.2 per cent more than the milling products hauled by 116 railroads.

The coal product loaded at the mines and hauled by thirty-five railroads is 30.5 per cent of all classes of freight, including coal hauled by 116 railroads.

Coal and coke handled by 116 railroads by thirty-five railroads is 8 per cent of all other freight less coal hauled by 116 railroads.

Coal hauled by thirty-five railroads loaded at the mines is 77 per cent of all coal and coke hauled by 116 railroads.

Coal and coke hauled by 116 railroads, not mined in Illinois, is 23 per cent of all coal hauled.

There was a time when central Illinois was dependent entirely on its corn crop for prosperity. That day has passed. The mines and factories of this section are now valuable factors in maintaining the balance of trade and keeping money in circulation among the people. It means much to the merchants of Springfield that over $1,000,000 a year is paid out in wages to the men who work in the mines and probably as much more to men and women who work in the various manufacturing establishments. It is these dollars that go from hand to hand which count for something in maintaining the business of the community and warding off financial crises. There is probably no part of the country that is better entrenched against calamity than central Illinois against calamity than central Illinois. No failure of crops has ever been known, but allowing that it were possible, the mining and manufacturing industries could be depended upon to keep the business interests of the section from being destroyed.

CHICKEN FRIES, ETC.

Now that the season for "outings," "fish" and "chicken fries" is on and at full tide of their glory, you will therefore allow a few timely and wholesome suggestions from one who has been there and knows whereof he affirms.

This just criticism, I assume, will be taken generally and specially without any spirit of mean or invidious discrimination. The pre-requisites to make these fish, chicken fries real enjoyments and altogether very desirable, ample provisions should be made for all contingencies and that none should go away from the ground hungry or neglected. The utmost good order must be enforced. Sufficient tickets should be provided always before the refreshments begin. In this regard at Ebenezer last Thursday evening, the 13th, inst., the immense crowd in attendance couldn't get enough tickets in advance, but had to stand in line in a jam and sweltering crowd at the rope turnstile chute, which were hazardous to life and limb and intolerable as well for nearly an hour waiting for tickets from those already at the tickets full. If some one or two good men had been in charge of the lines or crowds and kept the disorderly ones from crowding and pressing the women and children almost to death at the entrance, then discomfort, squeezing and fainting would have been avoided, and all could have been wisely and securely accommodated. In these essential particulars "Ebenezer," so proverbially hospitable and notably praiseworthy heretofore in all respects, fell under the ban of criticism and below her high mark. While these chicken fries are toothsome and commendable indeed in many ways and the causes for which they are held laudable and praiseworthy to the last degree, yet the great discomforts and extraordinary exertion to gain admittance to the canteens and drinkables or creature comforts take away the best and much of the real pleasure and enjoyment which should be amongst the chief delights. Could only the proper mode of conducting these tempting outdoor or tent occasion, and seasons of amusement, refreshment and entertainment be adopted and successfully carried out.

With the above objections eliminated from these delightful summer entertainments these and all similar outdoor or tent refreshments would certainly be not only the most desirable, healthful and enjoyable, but contribute to the welfare, promotion and commendable success of such noble worthy and Christian enterprises for the advancement whereof, they have been so laboriously and generously provided and conducted.

WHERE NERVE WING.

A New Drama, Brilliant Adaptation of the Famous Novel by George.

"A Gentleman From Gascony" is a dramatization by Arthur D. Hall of the famous novel of the same name. The story of the Huguenots has not been much told upon the stage, although it is one of the most dramatic episodes of French history. "A Gentleman From Gascony" is simply an incident but suffices to give a fair idea of the times, and must be of great interest. Raoul de Puycadere turns up at the marriage festivities at St. Germain, everybody is out of doors and drinking to the health of Henri, the new king. The acrobats are doing a thrilling business on the public square, a pretty gypsy dances and tells fortunes to the rustic who throng the streets. They have money to burn on this day and it would burn their pockets if not spent. Flags are flying from every window, and songs and laughter permeate the air; Raoul declares himself to be a chevalier of Gascony and excuses his dilapidated exterior by telling that he has been set upon by a party of bandits and robbed of all his money and good clothes. The hostess of the inn thinks it a good investment to be liberal to a nobleman in trouble and equips him with dress and necessities befitting his supposed rank. She is not only kind to the Gascon, but to please him she permits him to redeem without the money a holiday dress pledged by the gypsy, who is anxious to dance at the carnival, by which act he is installed in favor with the gypsies. Thus equipped, and with the darling of his race, he makes way to the palace of Henri of Navarre and succeeds in reaching the throne room, where he meets an ally in the person of the Lady Gabrielle de Vrissac, who is powerful at the court. As during heads and strong arms may soon be needed, the king accepts his services and he becomes attached to the royal person. But rumors are rife that the Huguenots are in danger, and Gabrielle insists upon her lover wearing the white badge of Catherine de Medici, which will insure his safety. Raoul is not the man to deny that he is a Huguenot, if hard pressed; he prefers to fight, and the times give him plenty of opportunity. He fights for the gypsy girl, he fights for Henri, he will fight for a song or a tankard of ale. He would rather fight than eat, and on one happy occasion has the good fortune to save the life of his royal master; hence it is no wonder the king makes him a governor and that the Lady Gabrielle makes him a Benedict. The production is under the management of M. W. Hanley & Son and will be mounted in magnificent style.

Kicks His Life For Love.

"A Gentleman From Gascony" is a dramatization of Bicknell Dudley's novel in France at the Huguenot period and reign of Henri of Navarre. Of course it is historical and tells a love story. The leading role is one Raoul de Puycadere, a Gascon who came to seek fortune under the banner of Henri. The drama will be mounted with entirely new scenery and costumes, which of course belong to the medieval period. Animated scenes will employ crowds of conspirators, guards, gypsies, acrobats, students and other picturesque characters.

Gabrielle de Vrissac, maid of honor to Marguerite of Navarre, is in love with Raoul, who woos and fights in true romantic fashion. He always swears by his sword or ladylove and would die for his king if necessary, but that never happens. Brave men have charmed lives, and Raoul has more lives to risk than a dozen ordinary men.

A Page of History.

Though the characters in "A Gentleman From Gascony" are actually mythical, yet the drama is really historical in that it gives an accurate and faithful picture of life in France in the sixteenth century. In the preparation of the play it was necessary for Mr. A. D. Hall, who dramatized the work, and Managers M. W. Hanley & Son to make an exhaustive research among books and records in order that the atmosphere of the period might be obtained. To the theater goer, therefore, "A Gentleman From Gascony" is, besides a stirring drama, a page of history of an era unsurpassed for picturesqueness and romance.

Produced Many Plays.

M. W. Hanley & Son have for the past seven years been noted for production of romantic plays. During that time they have presented "A Secret Warrant," "The Corsican Brothers," "Monbars," "The Dagger and the Cross," "A Free Lance" and many Shakespearean revivals. This season they offer the romance entitled "A Gentleman From Gascony," which for atmosphere and strong situations promises to excel all previous efforts.

The White of the City.

From all accounts the elite of this city are going to turn out in a body to witness the production of "A Gentleman From Gascony," and it is rumored that there are several theatre parties already under way. It will interest our readers to know that the company carries the entire scenery for this production, none of the house scenery being used; consequently absolute completeness in pictorial illustration is assured.

A Romantic Event.

M. W. Hanley & Son present "A Gentleman From Gascony" a play in Act 1 by A. D. Hall, dramatized from Bicknell Dudley's novel of the same name. The story of the Huguenots has not been much told upon the stage, although it is one of the most dramatic episodes of French history. "A Gentleman From Gascony" is simply an incident but suffices to give a fair idea of the times, and must be of great interest. BUCKIN' DARNABY

Great Midway Show of Bucklin' Darnaby Company—Highly Recommended.

The Bucklin' Darnaby Midway Carnival and Circus company will set up their city of tents and give an exhibition of their special features in Jacksonville, Aug. 24 to 30. The general equipment of this company is the best and most elaborate and magnificent that money can buy. All shows are built on wagons with massive wood-carved fronts. They travel on their own special trains. Everything is new. New tents of the best make, new paraphernalia, new acts and attractions. They are just out of the bandbox. And when this gold-glittering, gorgeous midway of all-genuine novelties, including a trained wild animal show, the uniformed military band, the new riding machines, etc., are up and ready for business, it will deserve the plaudits of the multitude that will invariably greet it. The magnificent frontage is bedecked with gorgeous vari-colored flags and banners. A marvelous city it is—an all-nations city, with its multi-various sights and sounds—kaleidoscopic in its vivid changing scenes its first impression on the visitor is one of wonder, amusement and delight. Impelled by eager curiosity, he proceeds step by step through the picturesque avenues of the tented metropolis. New and pleasing surprises greet him at every turn; and so he proceeds until he has visited the many attractions.

While every show with the Bucklin' Darnaby company is absolutely novel and meritorious, the mammoth feature show around which the others are grouped, and which one will go to see, is the Streets of India. The performers are gathered from all parts of the earth. Groups of strange foreign actors. From far-off India come mysterious, dark-skinned jugglers, who grow the mango tree, cause rose bushes to blossom forth before your very eyes, accomplish the extraordinary basket trick, and so forth. Then come the fantastical, religious dancers, contortionists and acrobats. They present a most sensational act, aided by the use of daggers, battle axes and flaming swords. Japan—the island gem of the orient—contributes a group of her famous sons and daughters, who perform the most astonishing wire and acrobatic acts. The army of skilled performers with the Streets of India present a marvelous performance, lasting over one hour, holding the audience spell-bound from start to finish. While the company carries fourteen of the best acts in the world for its free performance, the local committee will add as many more of the most renowned acrobatic and aerial acts, making the free performance, without any question or doubt, the strongest outdoor circus ever attempted by and for carnival company.

Among the many attractions already signed for the Jacksonville carnival, Aug. 24 to 35, will be found the six Florences, premier champion gymnasts of the world; ladies and gentlemen of exceeding beauty and grace, in innumerable feats requiring courage, unshakable nerve and great strength, presence of mind and years of training in gymnastic art. Doubtless the greatest aerial act ever brought to this country and the highest salaried artists. Master Van Norman, in his sensational performance on the spiral tower, Bader and LaVelle, the whirlwind bicycle riders, beginning where all others leave off, marvelous and sensational; a great fire baton drill; Slacky on the high wire; Leonora, in her $20,000 electrical sensation, etc.

The greatest trained wild animal show on earth—over 100 wild and ferocious beasts. Seated in the center of this huge arena is a gentle but fearless lady, who controls the big monsters by her eyes alone; fifteen big side shows; a miniature railroad; a monster Ferris wheel, sixteen feet higher than the one last year; a beautiful English carous; gypsy camps, etc.

ILLINOIS EDITORS' OPINIONS.

THEIR ANTICS ARE AMUSING.

Chicago Gazette: Some of the Chicago newspapers are much funnier than they intend to be. Recently they were running for an injunction to restrain the use of the $100,000 appropriated by the last legislature for the maintaining and improvement of the Illinois and Michigan canal; now they evince an inclination to be satisfied with the removal of the present commissioners and the appointment of a new board to expend the appropriation. So, after all, the saving of the money was not what they wanted.

PEOPLE RECOGNIZE MERIT.

Nokomis Progress: We will say, from all appearances, in this particular locality—Nokomis—that Governor Yates can safely depend on the east part of Montgomery county in the next campaign. Which goes to show that the people in general are not slow to recognize the splendid administration he is at present giving the state.

VETOES ARE APPROVED.

Chester Tribune: Governor Yates' enemies are finding it extremely difficult to overcome the effect of the governor's vetoes. Every honest citizen approves of the governor's veto of the salary grab bill, and by the same token that they are opposed to the members of the legislature who voted for the bill they are favorable to Governor Yates.

HAS SHOWN WHAT HE CAN DO.

Lewistown Republican-Record: Governor Yates is reported as being determined to make a canvass of the state in the interests of his candidacy for a second term in the office of governor of the state of Illinois. In the last campaign the governor demonstrated that he can do some things when he puts on his fighting clothes.

A CHANGE OF TUNE.

La Salle Tribune: The esteemed Chicago Tribune, which has been fighting the canal appropriation made by the last legislature and which has been calling loudly for the abolition of the canal, now says it is the canal commissioners that are all wrong, not the appropriation.

DENIAL WAS UNNECESSARY.

Alton Telegraph: Senator Hopkins has denied the report that he advised Governor Yates not to be a candidate to succeed himself as governor. It scarcely needs a denial. No one has ever accused the senator of being ungrateful to his friends, of whom Governor Yates was a most useful one.

THAT MUST BE CONCEDED.

Duquoin Tribune: Whether you be for him or against him, the fact still remains that Richard Yates' administration of the governorship has been clean, capable and economical.

THEY HAVE ANOTHER GUESS.

Harrisburg Herald: "And every time they think they think, they think they think a lie," is very applicable to those fellows who have been thinking perhaps they could roll Governor Yates. They have consulted and found out that they have think considerably wrong.

THEY NEVER DO.

Ipava Independent: The Democratic papers of Chicago are still working desperately to nominate a Republican candidate for governor of Illinois. Will they work as hard to elect the nominee of the convention?

DIFFERENT IN ILLINOIS.

Canton Register: Illinois sheriffs whose counties lynchings have disgraced are called upon to report to the governor how it happened and what they have done and intend to do about it. Lynching in Illinois, under the administration of Richard Yates, is a different matter from lynching in some other sections of the country—as by this time white-livered officials and bloody-handed anarchists presumably begin to realize.

DYSENTERY CURED WITHOUT THE AID OF A DOCTOR.

"I am just up from a hard spell of the flux" (dysentery), says Mr. T. A. Pinner, a well known merchant of Drummond, Tenn. "I used one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and was cured without having a doctor. I consider it the best cholera medicine in the world." There is no need of employing a doctor when this remedy is used, for no doctor can prescribe a better medicine for bowel complaint in any form either for children or adults. It never fails and is pleasant to take. For sale by all druggists.

Many persons in this community are suffering from kidney complaint who could avoid fatal results by using Foley's Kidney Cure. For sale by J. A. Obermeyer.

NEW SHORT STORIES.

The Queen's Revenge.

The late Queen Draga of Serbia once thought fit to humiliate a lady who had not shown the courtesy due from subject to sovereign. In becoming King Alexander's consort Draga gave great offense to Belgrade's aristocracy, and even the ladies of the diplomatic corps resented that they would not hold any communication with a queen whose upbringing they held had in certain essential respects been sadly neglected. But the example of the czar of Russia, whose congratulations were warm and public, swept away their scruples, and the royal lady was duly "received." Still, some of the queen's own countrywomen, declaring that they were made of sterner stuff, held out and showed the royal lady that their memories were as tenacious as their will.

One of these was the wife of a former minister of state, and, being also the president of a Belgrade committee, she had to appear in this latter capacity before Queen Draga. When admitted, together with several other ladies, to an audience, she feigned utter ignorance of the ways of court and thus managed to escape the sovereign's tapers fingers. Next day she boastfully bruted the fact abroad. A lady present informed her husband, who at once communicated the matter to the king, for in Serbia, as in most capitals, spicy gossip spreads like wildfire.

Two days later a royal carriage, empty, drove up to the door of the lady who was so chary with her lips. The servant brought and delivered a written order from the queen calling on the recalcitrant fair one to appear at once at the palace. This summons could not well be disobeyed, and, after all, it was an honor which obliged her to nothing. So she took her place in the gorgeous vehicle and alighted at the portals of the Konak. Here she was about to wend her way to the royal reception room when she was suddenly confronted on the threshold by the queen herself, who, without uttering a word, stretched forth her hand to be kissed. The lady, having no choice, kissed the monarch's fingers, whereupon Queen Draga, her eyes flaming, stamped angrily and exclaimed, "And now begone!" The humiliated visitor took herself away and, finding no royal carriage awaiting her, had to walk home.

they showed a percentage higher than those submitted by a score of other students.

Naturally he had to submit to the interviews of boys' journals and "success" papers, so that his career might be the inspiration for other struggling youths.

"How did you manage to work your way through college so successfully?" asked an important representative of a very unimportant journal.

"By keeping my shoulder to the wheel," replied Lehman tartly.

The answer will be appreciated when it is understood that young Lehman worked his way through Yale with money earned in pushing an invalid in her chair for 25 cents an hour.—Boston Post.

An Appropriate Text.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General Bristow tells this story of "a very appropriate text." He says that a friend of his, who he insists was not a Kansan, managed to combine a "zeal for the Lord" with a love of the almighty dollar. Having completed his theological education, Providence took care of his own and brought the young minister in contact with the daughter of a Virginia grape grower and wine maker. The theologian was quick to grasp the situation, and he married the girl on the Old Dominion plantation. Returning from a brief wedding trip among the Virginia hills, he was invited to occupy the pulpit of the church his new father-in-law attended.

When he came to preach he announced his text as Isaiah vi, 1. To the intense amusement of his congregation the verse reads: "Now I will sing to my well beloved a song of my beloved, touching the vineyard. My well beloved hath a vineyard in a very fruitful hill."

A countryman, making his first address in the British house of lords was asked by a friend if he found it difficult to speak before that chilly assemblage. "Difficult?" he replied. "It was like addressing a sheet of icebergs by torchlight."

SAYS HE WAS ROBBED

Quincy Man who Figured in Imaginary Hold-Up Here.

Quincy Herald: Alexander Callimore was at police headquarters to day. He said he had just been discharged from the asylum at Jacksonville after being confined eight or nine years. He claims that at the Jacksonville depot last evening, while waiting for the train he was attacked by a man who robbed him of $7.50—all the money he had except a quarter and it was in a tobacco pouch and escaped the notice of the robber. He further claims that the robber hit him in the mouth and knocked all his teeth and shows the toothless gums in proof of the story. Still further he claims that he was robbed of $60 between the time he was taken into custody and the time he was sent to Jacksonville, nearly nine years ago. Time was, he says, when he had money—was wealthy—and he says he has $1,500 in borrowed money due him. While at the asylum he was in Lima township. He is evidently still mentally unbalanced. He arrived in town at midnight last night and was given a place to sleep in the city prison.

AT THE LAKE.

A party of thirty young people spent Saturday evening very pleasantly at Morgan lake. Dancing was one of the features of the evening and refreshments were served. The affair was planned by Homer Harrison.

POLICE NEWS.

Nan Lewis and Della Glazier were arrested for disorderly conduct by Captain Kennedy and Policeman Murgatroyd.

John Holley and Hattie Hurlburt were taken in by Policeman Murgatroyd for disturbing the peace.

Policeman Trahey arrested Taylor Read for drunkenness.

WILL FIGHT FOR ROAD.

F. A. Whitesides, of Carrollton, held a conference with Assistant Attorney General Smith in Springfield regarding the case now pending in Greene county against the Chicago & Alton road, which controls the Quincy, Carrollton & Western railroad. The company began to tear up the tracks of the road west of Carrollton because they claimed the road had not been a profitable one. Citizens of Carrollton secured a temporary injunction, and further action against the road will be taken. Mr. Whitesides stated that a petition for mandamus to compel the company to operate their trains through Carrollton will be filed in a short time. The road extends from Barrett to Columbia. When the Chicago & Alton began to tear up the tracks the residents along the route objected and a lengthy legal battle will follow.

SECURE INCREASE.

Omaha, Aug. 15.—The joint committee representing the engineers and firemen of the Union Pacific railway to day concluded a conference with Superintendent Buckingham and Master of Motive Power McKean, the result of which is an average increase of wages for engineers of about 3 1/2 per cent and firemen 4 1/2 per cent.

A Forest Remnant.

A great spruce tree was felled in the state of Washington recently and it was decided that a piece of it should be sent to Sweden for exhibition purposes. The man who went to see the tree said they would take seven feet of the butt, but the Swedes said they could leave it in Washington if they did for it would be impossible to transport the log of the tree. The men finally brought down the trunk, and the section is also sent in Chicago.

NOT OVER-WISE.

There is an old allegorical picture of a girl scared at a grass-hopper, but in the act of heedlessly treading on a snake. This is paralleled by the man who spends a large sum of money building a cyclone collar, but neglects to provide his family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy as a safeguard against bowel complaints, whose victims outnumber those of the cyclone a hundred to one. This remedy is everywhere recognized as the most prompt and reliable medicine in use for these diseases. For sale by all druggists.

PROPOSALS FOR SOFT COAL.

Scaled proposals will be received at the office of the superintendent of the Illinois School for the Deaf at Jacksonville, Ill., until 2 o'clock p. m. Wednesday, Aug. 26, 1903, to furnish all the bituminous coal required by said institution during the twelve months beginning Sept. 1, 1903. Proposals shall be for good, clean, pea coal, free from slate, dirt or impurities, and in conformity to all the requirements of the printed form used by said institution and furnished to intending bidders upon request. Every proposal must be accompanied by a certified check for one hundred ($100.00) dollars to guarantee acceptance of the contract under approved bond for two thousand ($2,000.00) dollars in case the proposal is accepted.

The right to reject any or all bids is hereby expressly reserved and to advertise for bids if expedient.

Chas. P. Gillett, Superintendent. Jacksonville, Ill., Aug. 14, 1903.

CONSUMPTION THREATENED.

C. Unger, 211 Maple street, Champaign, Ill., writes: "I was troubled with a hacking cough for a year and I thought I had consumption. I tried a great many remedies and was under the care of physicians for several months. I used one bottle of Foley's Kidney and Tar. It cured me and I have not been troubled since." For sale by J. A. Obermeyer.

A BUSY DAY.

Business was brisk Saturday. There was more trading done in most all lines than has been the case for weeks past. It was a good day for country people to come to town, as the recent rain had laid the dust which made travel by road very pleasant. Local trains also carried a large number of passengers. It is a little early for fall buying, but people were taking advantage of the large number of summer clearing sales now running.

A NATURAL RESULT.

It is very reasonable to suppose if the foundation of a structure was removed that the building itself is bound to come down. This same principle can be applied to disease. Take remove the cause of sickness, and the illness leaves of itself. Dyspepsia, Indigestion, sickheadache and biliousness have their foundation in stomach disorders. Remove this weakness and the other symptoms are no more. There is one cure for this that all druggists sell for 25c per box, it is called Dr. Gunn's Improved Liver Pills. They get right at the beginning of these diseases and make the cure by taking away the cause of it. We will send a small box free by mail, or a large box on receipt of 25c. Address Dr. Gunn, Philadelphia, Pa. For sale by Lee P. Allcott

A SURE CURE FOR DIARRHOEA

Coming as it does, in the busiest season when a man can least afford to lose time, a sure and quick cure for diarrhoea is very desirable. Anyone who has given it a trial will tell you that the quickest, surest and most pleasant remedy in use for this disease is Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. There is no loss of time when it is used, as one or two doses of it will cure any ordinary attack. It never fails, not even in the most severe and dangerous cases. For sale by all druggists. 4

"I had diabetes in its worst form," writes Marion Lee, of Dunreath, Ind. "I tried eight physicians without relief. Only three bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure made me a well man." For sale by J. A. Obermeyer.

PHYSICIAN HAD FAILED.

My boy when four years old was taken with colic and cramps in his stomach. I sent for the doctor and he injected morphine, but the child kept getting worse. I then gave him half a teaspoonful of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and in half an hour he was sleeping and soon recovered.—F. L. Wilkins, Shell Lake, Wis. WESTERN UNION IN IT

Manager Pine Says His Company was not Bested in Prize Fight Returns.

In reference to the Postal Telegraph company beating the Western Union company in the matter of receiving the recent prize fight news, Manager Pine, of the Western Union, who has had fifteen years of experience in receiving news of a similar character, states that he did not give out the news of the finish of the fight as soon as it was received, but stayed at his post until the information round by round was received to the end that the interests of his customers and the public who wished to get the full returns might be conserved. The "flashes" are given at the same time to both companies and each operator, there being twenty-five to thirty operators at the ringside, who sends the message at the instance the fight is concluded and as electricity does not travel any faster over Postal wires than over Western Union there is no reason why one office should receive the news sooner than another.

"The fact is," says Mr. Pine, "the best wire ever constructed by either company runs through this city from Chicago to Roodhouse, west to Kansas City, thence to Denver, Ogden and San Francisco. This wire is twice as large as any other and has worked through cyclones and sleet storms when all others have failed. The Western Union has 46 wires to the Postal's one. There are 12 Chicago wires, Kansas City has 12, St. Louis 8, Peoria 2, Centralia 1, Litchfield 1, San Francisco 1, Denver 1, Indianapolis 1, Decatur 1, Galveston 1, Beardstown 1, Hammond 1, also one direct board of trade wire running right into the board of trade floor in Chicago.

"There is not a city in the United States that is so fully equipped with wires as Jacksonville. This city is the principal testing office between Chicago and Kansas City and for the entire west and southwest."

Manager Pine feels that he understands his business from digging pole holes to running an office and he endeavors to run the same at a profit to himself, his company and his customers.

THIRD IN CAMP.

Springfield, Aug. 15.—Eight hundred militiamen from northern Illinois under command of Colonel Fisher, forming the Third Illinois infantry, arrived at Camp Lincoln early this morning for a week of camp duty. The incoming of the Third and the exodus of the Sixth was effected without incident.

Religious services will be held at camp Sunday morning at 9 o'clock and the band will assist in the service. Evening parades will be held at 6:30 o'clock each evening and concerts will be given nightly in the pavilion.

The companies of the Third with but several exceptions have home ranges, and only candidates for the state team will use the Lincoln range this week.

U. S. INTERNAL REVENUE AGENTS MAKE ONE ARREST AND EXPECT MORE—RETAILER IS ACCUSED OF SELLING IMITATION CREMOS.

(From New York American.)

The arrest of Henry Silberstone, a cigar dealer of No. 283 Bowers, charged with having refilled cigar boxes, marked the beginning of a war that will be waged by the United States internal revenue agents against dealers all over the city who have been engaged in similar practices. For some months past a large cigar concern has been greatly annoyed by complaints that inferior cigars were being sold under its label and notified the revenue agents.

Silberstone is alleged to have bought several boxes of "Cremo" cigars and after selling the genuine article at the regular price (five cents) refilled the boxes with a cheaper article, which he sold at eight for 25 cents, explaining to his customers that the only difference in the cigars was in the matter of the bands.

The cheap cigar was sold without a label, while the real "Cremos" have bands about them. In this manner Silberstone is alleged to have made a profit of considerably more than 100 per cent. He was arraigned before Commissioner Shields and held for examination before the federal grand jury.

A cigar manufacturer interested in the case said:

"Substitution of cigars or refilling of boxes has been going on for some time. We have spent thousands of dollars advertising one particular brand of cigars and it is the name of this cigar that has been illegally used."

"The bands were placed upon our goods to protect our customers against just such a fraud. The federal authorities expect a number more of arrests shortly. There are tobacco and cigar penalties."

PLAYS THAT ELEVATE.

Many Founded Upon Historical Facts
Educate and Enlighten.

If the stage was devoted more to romance than nonsense it would be an educator as well as a source of amusement. Many who do not have the time to study history would in three hours of enjoyment become acquainted with the doings and atmosphere of the middle ages and imbibed knowledge of events which marked the evolution from barbarism to civilization. Such stories as "A Gentleman From Gascony" are of infinite value to the refined mind and inspire brilliant gossip for the parlor or drawing room, where often the weather and baseball are discussed for want of more interesting themes. How few young men and women can talk of the doings of the crusaders, of the Paladins, of the merry and equally unfortunate Stuarts, of the ambitious and unscrupulous Catherine de Medici, of Henri of Navarre, of the ascendancy of the Bourbons and the fall of the family at the French revolution. If you want real healthy theatricals go and see the romances and historical plays; they are not only enjoyable, but furnish good talk for years after and give knowledge that is expected of the refined mind. The girls who shine at pink teas could then discuss the absurdity of Anne Boleyn's make up when led to the block and the terrible bias worn by the ladies of the court of Henry V. of the changes of fashion during the long reign of Queen Bess and the very unconventional loveliness of Juliet of Verona.

Yes, we will get some good points from such plays as "Hanley & Son" and "A Gentleman From Gascony" is one of their best.

Sent His Voice by Express.

Every day prominent theatrical firms receive letters from aspiring young people who would like to become actors or actresses in some company. The announcement of the present tour of A. D. Hall's dramatization of Bicknell Dudley's novel, "A Gentleman From Gascony," brought down upon the devoted heads of the managers, M. W. Hanley & Son, an unusual avalanche of such letters, and all were pretty much alike except one that blew in from a Texas town. This one was from a young man who had read the book, and after telling about himself and setting forth his ambition he said: "As I cannot get to see you I enclose a photograph of myself and send by express today phonograph record of my voice, which you can put on a machine and hear for yourself." Sure enough, a phonograph cylinder turned up by express, prepaid, and the managers were so impressed by the applicant's methods that they marched to a phonograph shop and put the cylinder on a machine, which was then started up and a squeaky little voice came through the sounder chanting a popular song.

For Students of History.

Students of the world's history will be interested in the romantic play "A Gentleman From Gascony," being A. D. Hall's dramatization of Bicknell Dudley's popular novel of the same name. This work, which has the endorsement of some of the most exacting critics, introduces to the stage that most exciting era in the history of France, the year of 1572. So well has the dramatist adapted this period to the purposes of the stage that a graphic and appealing dramatic story is unfolded while conveying at the same time an accurate idea of this epoch of history, one of which all who pride themselves upon general knowledge are anxious to learn. Many eminent historians have read the play and have congratulated the managers, M. W. Hanley & Son, upon the educational value of their present fine dramatic offering.

Play Selecting.

M. W. Hanley & Son are managers who probably could carry to success even a bad play, and when they get a notably good play, as they have this year, there is practically no limit to its possibilities in their hands. Mr. M. W. Hanley (who has managed Robert B. Mantell for several seasons, Edward Harrigan and many other prominent stars), however, has not yet had a bad play, for he is undoubtedly one of the lucky managers who meet year after year with success. A great deal of this is based upon sound judgment in play selecting and keen discernment in directing tours. This season Hanley & Son both feel they have presented their strongest and most picturesque drama, and the company presenting it is one of unusual strength.

Romantic Plays Always Popular.

"A Gentleman From Gascony" comes with a company said to be unusually strong in romantic drama. The managers, M. W. Hanley & Son, have done much toward demonstrating that the public is far from being tired of the legitimate drama and talent to properly present it. So far this season they have had no reason to complain of the patronage. A large company of legitimate actors has been selected. The play has been mounted and presented with every attention to detail and finish. It is safe to presume that one of the largest engagements ever played in this city will be enjoyed by this popular drama. Romance is the highest type of melodrama and appeals to all classes of theater patrons.

High Class Drama.

Hanley & Son's production of "A Gentleman From Gascony" is promised to be elaborate and to contain the proper atmosphere. The drama is adapted by Arthur D. Hall from the novel of like title by Bicknell Dudley. It will be a great historical treat and appreciated by the lovers of high class drama. The play is a French story, introducing King Henri of Navarre and his famous band of followers who figured in the crisis of France in 1572.

HOW LOVE WON.

The Story of Michael Dudley's Romantic Novel.

The scene of "A Gentleman From Gascony," dramatized from the novel of the same name, is laid in France in 1572. Raoul de Puycaudre, a young Gascon cavalier of fine family, but impoverished estates, goes to Paris to seek his fortune. On the way he is beset by footpads and rescued by a band of roving gypsies. They arrive at St. Germain during the festivities celebrating the marriage of Henri of Navarre to the French king's sister Marguerite. Raoul saves a young maid of honor, Gabrielle de Vriesac, from the importunities of the students and quarrels in consequence with her cousin, the Viscount de Vriesac. He then determines to pass himself off as the ambassador from Gascony and goes to the Louvre for that purpose. In spite of his audacity he is discovered, but Gabrielle intercedes for him and Henri of Navarre appoints the young Gascon his envoy. In an interview between Raoul and Gabrielle he tells her of his love, and she, having heard rumors of the approaching massacre, induces him to let her tie upon his arm the white scarf which will act as a safeguard. Paris is in an uproar against the Huguenots, and Raoul, a Huguenot himself, takes refuge in an inn, the landlady of which is his friend. Here comes the young Duke de Bassompierre and a party of boon companions. The duke insults Mirza, a gypsy girl belonging to the band that had rescued Raoul. The Gascon defends her in spite of the danger of discovery as a Huguenot. A duel follows between Raoul and the duke and the duke falls lifeless. Raoul escapes, but is pursued. He climbs a balcony and finds himself in the room of an elderly lady. He tells his story and she conceals him, promising protection. His pursuers arrive, and from them the duchess (for the lady is the mother of the young duke) learns the truth. But she keeps her word, vowing, however, vengeance in the future.

longing to the band that had rescued Raoul. The Gascon defends her in spite of the danger of discovery as a Huguenot. A duel follows between Raoul and the duke and the duke falls lifeless. Raoul escapes, but is pursued. He climbs a balcony and finds himself in the room of an elderly lady. He tells his story and she conceals him, promising protection. His pursuers arrive, and from them the duchess (for the lady is the mother of the young duke) learns the truth. But she keeps her word, vowing, however, vengeance in the future.

Of Historical Interest.

Realizing the educational value of their present play, "A Gentleman From Gascony," which discloses the interesting history of France in 1572, many prominent college and school officers have requested M. W. Hanley & Son to arrange for the benefit of their students special performances of the drama. The managers have been at pains to accede whenever possible to these requests, but have felt that the general playgoing public, always comprehending the merit of really instructive as well as entertaining dramatic material, have rewarded them sufficiently for their labors in giving the people a play that is of actual historical interest as well as a medium of dramatic entertainment.

The Proper Method.

"A Gentleman From Gascony" is under the management of M. W. Hanley & Son, the well known theatrical managers. A large company of legitimate actors has been selected. The play has been mounted and presented with every attention to detail and finish. It is safe to presume that one of the largest engagements ever played in this city will be enjoyed by this popular drama. Romance is the highest type of melodrama and appeals to all classes of theater patrons.

Some Elaborate Scenery.

Elaborate settings and rich costumes are the features of the romantic play, "A Gentleman From Gascony." Under the direction of M. W. Hanley & Son a production has been prepared that is said to equal anything seen on the road this season and the managers believe they have achieved in it one of the greatest successes of their career.

FROM ARKANSAS

William Camm, Sr., Tells Something of Happenings Near His New Home.

Toilville, Ark., Aug. 15, 1903.

Editor Journal:

W. E. Harney, of Murrayville, and Fred Shumaker of Woodson, are both here and one or both will buy land with a view of locating.

Alvin Worrell and family are coming back before they have given the country a fair trial. Captain Downs' wife talks of coming back, but as Cap has already bought he will stay.

Some of the old settlers want to move away, as the range and wild meadows are nearly all under wire.

A letter from Murrayville tells of your blow. Your writer got into a twist last Thursday week, but it came on the heels of a heavy shower and had no lightning in it. It looked and roared viciously. John Bracwell and his two little boys got in on it as it whirled by. One of the boys heard the roar to the south and called his father's attention to "thunder that didn't stop." They crossed its front just in time. Where it crossed corn fields it damaged them on a path about sixty yards wide. Three weeks ago we had a live electric storm and three telephone poles and a cottonwood were struck, but no harm done, though children were near both of them. Stormed yesterday and is raining steadily to day.

Except blackberries fruit was scarce, yet we had early and fine apples. Melons, peanuts and truck generally are superabundant and of finest quality.

Willie Camm has between thirty and forty tons of baled hay in shed, but frequent rains are very troublesome.

We have a few sick neighbors, but considering the showery weather the general health is very good.

We had a neighborhood picnic with dinner, ice cream and ice cold lemonade in abundance and free.

Next Sunday Mrs. George Westrope has a melon party. There seem to be a happy disposition here to use Sunday as a day of neighborly recreation. Of course a few narrow dogmatists will kick. Sunday as the name implies, was for many, many centuries kept with respect for the physical source of all life and was adopted as a Christian day by that session of the Nice council that convened at Ratisbon about 231 common era and should be observed as a day for friendship and sunshine rather than for lugubrious penitence and "solemnity" homilies.

Mrs. George Jackson has a touch of chills.

Fish fry by our neighbors at Pepper's lake or bayou on White river next Saturday. Come down.

PASSAVANT HOSPITAL TRAINING SCHOOL FOR NURSES.

The year for the Passavant Hospital training school for nurses begins Oct. 1. The course requires two years of study and training after two months probation (i. e. 30 months) in order to get a diploma. It is an advantage for applicants to have had the two months probation before the classes open the first of October.

The qualifications demanded by the hospital management for an applicant to the training school are: First, good character; second, good hometraining; third, a school training that is at least equal to that required for entrance to a high school; fourth, the applicant must be at least 20 years old and not over 35 years of age.

The first two qualifications are demanded because nursing is a high and noble calling and requires the best endeavors of a true hearted Christian, possessed of the patience of Job and the wisdom of Solomon.

Competent trained nurses from Passavant hospital in Chicago will have charge of the training school; besides instruction in ordinary nursing there will be special courses given in operative work, cooking for invalids and massage. Last winter a number of the physicians in the city gave the nurses lectures and they will continue to do so the coming winter.

THE GAME OF GOLF.

Growing in Popular Favor Is a Recreation and Not a Spectacle.

If the popularity of golf were estimated by the number of spectators at the interesting series of contests last week for the amateur championship of the United States, from Pittsburgh westward, the hold which the game has upon the people of Cleveland and the country in general might never be guessed. By comparison with the crowds that would have flocked to see foot ball or base ball matches of relatively equal importance, the groups of enthusiasts who followed the golfers on their rounds were few and small. Yet the newspapers gave the sport all due attention, the local pride of several big clubs in or near Cleveland was involved in the contests, the weather was fine most of the time, and the surroundings of the tournament were beautiful.

It is true that golf is not a game of the masses in America. Probably it never will be. It is too quiet, too expensive, in the way of a proper outfit, even where public links are provided, too moderate in its pace, and too rural or semi-rural in its necessary environment. It has comparatively little of the quick, direct, nerve-testing personal contact and opposition which is so fascinating a part of sports like base ball and foot ball, which number their devotees by millions.

But there are many more golf players in and about Cleveland than was suggested by the number of spectators at any stage of the tournament last week. Nor did the size of the "galleries" that followed the aspirants for the championship in any sense measure the extent of the interest felt in the results of the contests. Not a few enthusiasts went on with their own playing instead of watching masters of the game. Golf matches would be better attended if it were not so hard to draw lovers of the sport from the links where they try to cut their own scores down.

Just there lies the chief reason why golf is much needed in America. It is a recreation rather than a spectacle. Persons who watch it with any care must walk miles to see a single game. It means good exercise in the open air, for spectators as well as players, though not quite in the same degree. There can never be a shouting multitude of excited partisans tramping golf links to watch champions play, at least not in a country which loves stress and hurly-burly in its sports as America does, but all the spectators will get exercise for other muscles and organs than those which they use in making a noise.

Golf is essentially and everywhere a game for amateurs. Its devotees will always play rather than spend much time watching experts hired to give exhibitions. Anyone can do something on the links. Neither strength nor endurance is requisite to sport there, much less anything like the willingness to face danger and bear pain which foot ball and base ball call for and various other games demand. No contest is more easy to handicap fairly than golf. No pleasant recreation is safer for the elderly and the infirm, while it affords ample opportunity for almost infinite development of skill and for the finest powers of the strongest and most competent young athletes.

So the sport which has rapidly spread round the civilized world in the last few years, brings into American life a wholesome element of open air exercise which will never be given over to paid masters of the game and degenerate, for purposes of health, bodily refreshment into a mere spectacle for all but the few who master it. Golf is clean, safe, and sound. It is bound to win its way into much greater favor than it has yet gained in America. But the game will never be a very popular spectacle. It is a recreation, not a show.

THE DEATH RECORD.

PLUMMER.

Mrs. Hannah S. Plummer died Saturday morning at 7:30 o'clock at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lydia A. Crain, 1065 South Clay avenue, after an extended illness.

Miss Hannah S. Proctor was born in Virginia, Cass county, Ill., in 1834. She was of a family of six children, one brother and five sisters, all of whom have passed away within the past five years. Early in life she became converted and joined the Methodist church, of which she remained a devout member till the time of her death.

Deceased was married about 1859 to J. C. Plummer, of Virginia. To this union were born seven children, three of whom, William, Charles and Thomas, have passed away, two of them having died in their infancy. Left a widow in 1869 she never remarried, but remained in Virginia until 1891, since which time she has resided in this city, spending a great deal of the time recently with her daughter, Mrs. Crain.

Since her residence in this city Mrs. Plummer had been a faithful member of Brooklyn church. For the past ten years she had suffered from a complication of diseases, but always maintained her cheerfulness and implicit trust in God. She was of that rare disposition that gains friends everywhere, and during her whole life she was never heard to speak ill of any one. Hosts of sorrowing friends in this and Cass counties will sadly miss the loved one who has gone before.

Deceased is survived by four children, H. C. and N. B. Plummer, Mrs. Lydia A. Crain and Mrs. D. F. Fritch, of Ravenna, Ohio.

Funeral services will be held at the home of Mrs. Lydia Crain, 1065 South Clay avenue, Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Jacksonville cemetery.

HICKS.

Mrs. Sarah E. Hicks passed from earth Saturday morning about 4 o'clock at her late residence, 205 South Prairie street, after an illness of several months. The end came peacefully and quietly and she fell asleep with a firm trust that all would be well. She bore her suffering with a patience and fortitude that was exemplary of her whole life and it may truly be said that she is now with the spirits of the just made perfect.

Mrs. Hicks was born Oct. 28, 1818, in Brunswick, N. J. In 1836 she was united in marriage to Isaac S. Hicks, formerly sheriff of Morgan county, who preceded her to the land beyond thirty years ago. In 1839 Mr. and Mrs. Hicks removed to Jacksonville and this city has been her home ever since. Her life has been devoted to her family and her home, and she will ever be remembered as a devoted wife and mother. She always had a kind word and pleasant smile for every one and neighbors and friends will sadly miss her cordial greeting. Until her recent illness life had much to interest her, as she was one who lived in the present and took an interest in all that pertained to present day affairs. The decedent was a member of State Street Presbyterian church and her earnest Christian life needs no words of eulogy.

She has entered into rest leaving behind her a life of usefulness and a memory that will ever be hallowed and revered by those whose tender ministrations of love and affection have been of infinite comfort to her during the evening of her life. She is survived by four daughters, Miss Sarah Hicks, Miss Fannie Hicks, Mrs. George Hollinger and Mrs. J. T. Osborne, all of whom reside in this city, and two sons, Isaac, of this city, and Charles E., of Stapleton, Staten Island.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 4 o'clock at her late residence on Prairie street. Rev. A. L. Ewert will be in charge.

WATSON.

Mrs. John Watson, of Lynnville, died this morning at 2:30 o'clock at her home. The deceased was about 65 years of age and had been an invalid for several years.

Funeral notice later.

THIEVES VISIT MAYOR

Daring of Robbers in Pittsfield Leads Them to Take Lunch in the Home of the Town's Executive Officer.

Pittsfield, Aug. 15.—Burglars were active in Pittsfield Thursday night. At Mrs. Anna Dustin's home they carried away five valuable rings, one of them a $150 engagement ring with diamond settings, and a pocketbook containing several dollars in change.

The money was the property of Miss Rupert, of Louisiana, Mo., who is a guest at the Dustin home. Giles Penstone's residence on the same street was entered and robbed of $1.

Judge Orr, mayor of the city, received a midnight call from the marauders, who helped themselves to a watermelon from the ice chest and then went over to Dr. J. H. Barber's, where they made so much noise trying to gain an entrance that the family was awakened and the burglars frightened away.

It is supposed the robbers belonged to a gang of grafters passing through town on the way to the soldiers' reunion at Nebo.
